

LaDonna Harbour Receives COOP Specialist Certification

LaDonna Harbour, Support Services Director at Perry Memorial Hospital, has received certification as a Certified Continuity Manager (CCM) – COOP Specialist. COOP stands for “Continuity Of Operations Planning”. COOP Planning is not just a one-time event. It is only one aspect of an on-going program to manage risk and maintain an organization’s ability to withstand potentially disastrous incidents, no matter how large or small or if the incident has internal or external causes. LaDonna went through special training and passed the certification examination to receive this certification. “Perry Memorial Hospital would like to congratulate LaDonna on receiving her certification. We appreciate all of her hard work and dedication to the hospital. We encourage our employees to improve upon their education and LaDonna has continually done this,” stated Joe Duerr, CEO of Perry Memorial Hospital.
